

I Love You

To: The Fully Healed Woman

My dearest daughter,
I AM sending this note to share My heart with you on this special day, today. I think of you often and meditate on all of the goodness, beauty, and truth that has been deposited inside of you since before you took a breath. I know things on earth can get muddled at times, but clear space for Me. Remember Me. In all that you do, in all that you are in the big and small things of life, Remember Me. For I have not, nor could I ever, forget you. I have not nor will I ever leave you nor forsake you. I long to look into your eyes with a love-gaze that penetrates your heart and communicates how deeply and profoundly I SEE YOU. May you rest in my love today and always.

In tender mercy and loving kindness,
Your First-Love

---